Local Trails Receive East Coast Greenway

Dunn is proud to support the East Coast Greenway project, an initiative that connects communities along the eastern seaboard for safe recreational use. This project, which began in 2007, promotes the development of biking and walking paths and is expected to span over 710 miles by 2025. Dunn has contributed 47 miles of trails for this greenway, which is now 47% complete. The trail has been in active development for the last 7 years, and Dunn’s scenic paths are designed to be safe for all ages and abilities while offering opportunities for exercise.

Fear River Trail Park

Located on paths that are safe for all ages and abilities, the Fear River Trail Park offers 16 acres of walking trails, overlooks, and canoe access. It is one of several farms in the area that have been developed into scenic parks. Dunn’s 1,000-acre Dunn Battlefield, which was a site of the Battle of Averasboro, is another such park. It is one of several farms in the area that saw major new growth and development.

Harnett Soil and Water Conservation District

Harnett Soil and Water Conservation District staff members, Lynn Lambert and Mark Walton, spoke with Gov. Cooper about their efforts to provide assistance to local farmers. They discussed the challenges faced by farmers in the area and the support provided by the district. They highlighted the importance of conservation efforts and the need for continued support from the government to help farmers meet their challenges.

The Library

The Library in Harnett County hosts over 500 programs annually for individuals of all ages. It provides 16,500 hours of free internet access to the public. In addition to serving 232,000 community members, the Library is dedicated to providing them assistance to keep Harnett County moving forward.

Utilizing Effective Partnerships to Serve Disconnected Youth

The Library is working to improve the lives of disconnected youth, who are those who are not enrolled in school or employment, in order to help them become productive members of society. To achieve this, the Library is working with other organizations and agencies to identify and provide assistance to these individuals. This includes providing access to education, employment, and training opportunities.

SEND ONE POSITIVE EMAIL DAILY THANKING SOMEONE IN YOUR SOCIAL OR BUSINESS SUPPORT CIRCLE.

Business psychologists believe that if you retrain your brain to focus more on the positives in the workplace, then you will improve your overall sense of well-being. This can be done by sending one positive email daily thanking someone in your social or business support circle. This small act can have a big impact on your life and the lives of those around you.
